

AESTHETICA ART PRIZE

The 11th Aesthetica Art Prize Call for Entries

The 11th Aesthetica Art Prize is now open for entries and is looking for cutting-edge practitioners working in any medium at any stage in their career. Having helped further the careers of many artists in the past, the Prize is an opportunity for artists to connect with a wider audience.

Prizes include an exhibition for shortlisted artists; publication in the Aesthetica Art Prize Annual for shortlisted and longlisted artists, and further exposure via Aesthetica's digital channels – reaching a global audience of 311,000.

There are two main categories to enter: the Main Art Prize and the Emerging Art Prize for those who are currently studying or have recently graduated. Winners from each category are awarded a significant cash prize of £5,000 for the Main Prize Winner and £1,000 for the Emerging Art Prize Winner, courtesy of Hiscox. They also receive art books by Prestel and art supplies vouchers up to £250, courtesy of Winsor & Newton.

The 100 shortlisted and longlisted artists also receive coverage in the publication Future Now: 100 Contemporary Artists. Readers are invited to explore the captivating projects by via a statement from each artist alongside an image of their selected piece. The book also features a collection of critically engaging essays from leading figures in the art world. Previously, these have included Clare Grafik, Head of Exhibitions at The Photographers' Gallery in London, Chris Littlewood, Director at Flowers Galley and Helen Trompeteler, Assistant Curator of Photographs at the National Portrait Gallery.

Cherie Federico, Aesthetica Art Prize Director, says: “The Aesthetica Art Prize is a fantastic opportunity for artists. Those that have been selected have gone on to achieve success around the globe. Chilean-born photographer Carolina Redondo has since been selected for In Search of the Miraculous at Newlyn Art Gallery & The Exchange, and French photographer Noémie Goudal has had solo shows at FOAM in Amsterdam and The Photographers' Gallery in London. It is a privilege to be able to showcase such outstanding contemporary practice, and we are really excited about this year's Call for Entries.”

The Aesthetica Art Prize attracts thousands of entries in a range of innovative media from locations as diverse as Australia, Germany, India, Japan, Malaysia, the Netherlands, the UK and the USA.

Previous finalists include 2016 Main Prize winner Rachel Ara, recipient of the Second Prize Award for Shad Thames Portraits, Anise Gallery; John Keane, former official British war artist, currently represented by Flowers Gallery in London; Julia Vogl, shortlisted for Saatchi Gallery and Channel 4's New Sensations; Ingrid Hu, former designer at the Lubetkin-winning Heatherwick Studio; Marcus Jansen, a leading modern expressionist; and Bernat Millet, shortlisted for National Portrait Gallery's Taylor Wessing Photographic Portrait Prize.

The Aesthetica Art Prize welcomes artists into a supportive network with further opportunities to widen their engagement within the creative sector. Aesthetica launched its inaugural Future Now Symposium, 26-27 May 2016, bringing 40 speakers from some of the UK's leading art organisations to York for the event, which saw lectures, panel discussions, portfolio reviews and film screenings take place at York St John University. The Symposium will return for a second year, running 25 and 26 May 2017.

Aesthetica's events, including the exhibition and the symposium, alongside its bi-monthly magazine and annual publication of shortlisted and longlisted works unite to provide a dynamic and diverse platform for artists to connect with new audiences.

There are four media categories for entry in the Aesthetica Art Prize: Photographic & Digital Art; Three Dimensional Design & Sculpture; Painting, Drawing & Mixed Media, and Video, Installation & Performance. Entries close 31 August 2017.
